LOCAL WHOLESALE TRADE

BUSINESS IN GOOD VOLUME, WITH PRICES HOLDING FIRM.

Butter and Eggs are somewhat easier.

Heavy Dealings in Building Hardware—Good Demand for Grains.

The week opened with a very fair volume of trade, and strong prices continue a feature.

Eggs are hardly as firm as last week and prices have dropped half a cent. Butter is weaker at half a cent decline, but poultry continues firm and in active demand, both in the home and Eastern markets.

Conversations with the poultry dealers evidence that after the Fourth of July prices of poultry will come down. On Commission row it was quite a busy day. Stocks held were light and orders by mail of the retail grocers in the city and the market men cleared the market of hold-ings. Oranges are about off the market, as are old apples. New apples are coming in freely and some of the receipts are of very attractive size, and palatable for eating. Strawberries are practically off the market and the supply of blackberries is limited. California cherries are in good supply, but of home-grown cherries are not offered. The wholesale grocers had a busy day, filling orders brought in by the traveling salesmen on Saturday. Heavy groceries are in fast movement preparatory to harvest time, the June and July consumption of coffee and sugars being large, but with present prices in good supply and prices are steady. Wholesale druggists report business as excellent. Sales of paints and oils are in good volume and prices are steady. The flour market continues active. Prices are firm at the present advance, with no indications of lower prices in the near future. Iron and steel merchants report heavy shipments yesterday, and the men having brought in large orders on Saturday. There is a good deal of building in progress over the State and adjoining States, and the demand for nails and glass is large. The hide market continues steady and active for the season. Leather is in good position, with trade large and prices firm. Wholesale merchants and commission men express surprise over the manner in which business keeps up. Usually in June there is a lull in trade and a break in prices and little money is made, but with present prices and conditions there is no room for complaint of profits or the volume of trade.

Indianapolis Grain Market.

Receipts of grain are more liberal, cereals line works and starch factories being large consumers at the present time, and there is no trouble to dispose of grain that grades well at the following range of quotations, as reported by the secretary of the Board of Trade:

GOLD EXPORTS RENEWED

THIS CAUSES DECLINING TENDENCY IN THE STOCK MARKET.

Crop Conditions Also Make for Lower Prices—Effect of Litigation Against Minor Industries.

NEW YORK, June 22.—There was a brief entertained purpose this morning to put up prices, but it was soon abandoned, and the stock market was allowed to drift for the rest of the day. Scattered liquidation from various quarters and rather acute weakness of a few stocks caused the drift downward and the close was easy at the lowest of the day and very dull.

The news of the day was not favorable to a rise and the early attempt to put up prices seemed to be manipulative and designed to contest the effect of the poor bank statement of Saturday.

The announcement of gold exports was the signal for a turn downward. The outflow of gold also gave renewed effect to Saturday's bank statement and the weather map for the day being unfavorable for the corn and cotton crops as well as for the harvesting of winter wheat was added to the depressing influences. No plausible explanation is forthcoming of the discrepancy of over $3,000,000 between the statement and the known movements of gold for the week. So far as can be learned the suggestion that the trust companies have been making withdrawals of their deposits without warrant. The engagement of $2,000,000 of gold for export to Germany and France to-morrow came as a disagreeable surprise to the small speculators in stocks, which had counted on a cessation of exports since the reduction of the Bank of England rate last Thursday. But discounts have hardened in London and the price of gold has advanced there this morning while the decline in sterling and the withdrawal of French and German capital from London. It is evident also that the centers are calling home resources from New York as the approved purpose of the authority of the Bank of England. The London Statist of June 13, while professing confidence in the soundness of the American position in spite of the prolonged decline in stocks, expresses the opinion that there will be a while a slackening of all kinds of business in the United States, which will make money more abundant and cheap in New York and will enable the French and German banks to decrease still further the balances they are employing here. This week's statement of the Bank of England is a reduction of the Bank of England rate to 3 percent, which is a further indication of the confidence in the soundness of the American position in spite of the prolonged decline in stocks, expresses the opinion that there will be a while a slackening of all kinds of business in the United States, which will make money more abundant and cheap in New York and will enable the French and German banks to decrease still further the balances they are employing here.
